Emory Farmers Market
Supporting our local food community on campus

HIGHLIGHTS
Through a weekly gathering of farms, restaurants, small-scale artisanal businesses, and Emory community members, the Emory Farmers Market fosters education and personal relationships through food. Community members have the opportunity to engage with small-scale producers and support the local economy, contributing to a more robust and sustainable food system, while enjoying delicious, local food.

Since 2008, the Emory Farmers Market has been a lively campus community space for local farms and businesses that offer a wide selection of fresh produce, hand-crafted goods, and diverse beverage and lunch options for students, faculty, and staff.

BENEFITS
• The Market helps carry out our Sustainability Vision goal to expand food security in the Atlanta area by “supporting the development of a food hub to aggregate, process, and preserve food from local and sustainable farmers.”
• Purchasing food from local producers greatly reduces the energy required to transport food and ensures that produce is in season, which diminishes the associated carbon footprint and negative climate implications of food choices.
• Occasional themed markets celebrate seasonal produce or campus events, including the Tomato Festival, Peach Festival, Student Sustainability Showcase, Sustainable Food Fair, Earth Festival, and more.

$410,000+
dollars from student meal plans spent at the Farmers Market since Fall 2015.

LEARN MORE
The Emory Farmers Market is every Tuesday, except during Fall and Spring Breaks, from 11:00-2:00 on McDonough Plaza between QUESTIONS?

Engage on social media:
• Instagram

© 2021 Emory Office of Sustainability Initiatives
the Emory Student Center and Woodruff P.E. Center.

View a list of our current Market vendors.

Interested in applying to become a vendor? Email dining@emory.edu.

Interested in performing or displaying art at the Market? Prospective musicians and artists are welcome to apply online.

Interested in hosting an educational or informational table or displaying class projects at the Market? Let us know more.